SEGREGATION WRONG. DOERS IS PLANNED

late Official, Here on Inspection City and County Jails. Tells of Method Under Consideration

The city and county jails here are not in bad condition, according to William Thomas of Denver, secretary of the state board of charities and corrections, who is making an inspection of the two places for the state.

"I mean by this that the city and county jails are no worse than the other jails of the state," Mr. Thomas continued, "although none of them comes up to our ideal."

"We are working for a change in the system of our lockups," in the state, which will end in leaving the inmates in a better condition after they leave the places, than when they entered. Such is not the case now.

"First of all, we are working for the segregation idea. We want to classify the different kinds of prisoners, according to their crimes and inclination to do wrong. We want to put the mental defectives in separate cells, and keep them separated as much as possible in after life. In this manner we can keep a check on them, prevent them from mixing and thus decrease the number of insane cases that are sent to the public's hands."

"Then the men that are convicted should be kept separate from those who are awaiting trial, as well as the hardened criminals from the young and inexperienced. The murderer and petty larceny man should not be allowed to mingle together in jail."

"After the state has worked out the idea of segregation," Mr. Thomas says, "there is a plan to keep the prisoners employed so that they will have a chance to keep their minds on something useful instead of destructive."

Mr. Eye is a molder by trade. The automobile party had gone through the sanatorium grounds, and upon leaving had inquired of Charles Rosenthal, a patient at the sanatorium, concerning the Glen Eyrie road. Rosenthal told them that it was in poor condition and that it would be better to go back the way they had come. Notwithstanding, the party decided to go past Glen Eyrie over the Mesa. Owing to the bad hills and many sharp turns the road is not generally traveled by sightseers.

Goes Farther, Costs Less, than Soap

For general household cleaning, soap powder form is more economical and efficient than in the bar. Gold Dust, one of the first powders—and still the best—can be used more economically than soap, because the quantity desired can be measured out and no more used. Using soap in the cake there is waste, or being used than is really needed; the rest of the cake is water-soaked, thusing the soap lose its goodness. Moreover, Gold Dust contains other ingredients, which soften the hardest stains and allow the soap to do its work with little rubbing.

SECRETARY FISHER ANSWERS MONDELL

Says U. S. Policy in Matter of Coal Land Values Not Open to Criticism

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Maintaining that the policy of the United States government with relation to the valuation of public coal lands is not open to the criticisms against it, and that it is designed to prevent monopolization and to encourage development, Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, tonight made public his reply to protests against that policy submitted to him last June by Representative Frank Mondell of Wyoming.

Representative Mondell charged that prices fixed by the government were prohibitive, that they paralyzed the coal industry in the west, resulted in increasing the cost of coal to the consumer from 50 cents to $1 a ton and created a monopoly.

Mr. Mondell also said that prices for coal lands in all the working fields run from $150 to $500 an acre, that millions of acres are rated at values above $150 an acre, that prices in the better fields are in excess of those charged in commercial practice in the same fields or for better grade coals in eastern fields.

All these allegations, Secretary Fisher, after thorough study, submits as apparently based on misapprehension as to the basis on which valuation is made as to the prices placed on coal lands and as to the effect which the classifications have had on the sale of public lands.

"The prices now fixed," Secretary Fisher said, "are designed not to create monopoly in the hands of present owners of coal lands, but to prevent monopoly by making it unprofitable to purchase large areas for indefinite holding without development."

Wants Immediate Development.

"This, in fact, is the constant aim of the department in prices which it puts upon public coal lands—to make them low enough so as to encourage purchases for immediate development, yet sufficiently high to discourage purchases for long-time holdings for speculation or for monopolization."

"Prices prohibiting development would be inimical to the present interests of the west, prices permitting purchases with a view to monopolization would be inimical to their future interests. The sole object, therefore, is to value the lands as to permit development and to prohibit speculation."

"In view of all the facts, however, I am convinced that the prices now being placed on the public coal lands are neither unreasonable nor exorbitant, and that the increase in the sale of coal lands for the four-year fiscal period should be July 31, 1907, in comparison with the preceding four-year period together with the present condition of the western industry demonstrates conclusively that the present classification policy is not open to criticism, which you make."

Secretary Fisher suggests that a liberal but wisely protected leasing law might be found to promote development more vigorously than any system of outright purchases such as has been the case in Australia and New Zealand, and adopted by Canada in its Yukon territory.

Referring to Mr. Mondell's charge that millions of acres are rated at values above $150 an acre as "the highest price paid" by coal purchasers, Secretary Fisher says there can be millions of acres of classified lands rated since only 100,000 acres of coal lands in the country have been priced to date.

PHYSICIAN ADMITS HE MURDERED HIS BRIDE

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Dr. Harry Elsie Webster, a Rush Medical college graduate and interne in the Polyclinic hospital, in a confession to the police late today admitted that he murdered one of his two young wives, Bessie Kent Webster of Chicago, in the woods 10 miles from Dixon, Ill., September 16.

The police declare that the motive for the crime was Webster's desire to hide from his wife, Zoe Varney Webster of Cedar Rapids, Ia., the fact that he was a bigamist. He had married the two women within one week last January.

Webster declared that he was married first to Zoe Varney at Cedar Rapids, January 4. He said that he was greatly in love with his bride and expected to return to Cedar Rapids to practice medicine. Then he returned to Chicago to continue his hospital work and found complications arising from a love affair of his college days. He stated that he was forced into a marriage with Bessie Kent, January 11, under threats that his alleged relations with her would be exposed and he would lose his hospital position.

"I married Bessie Kent under her promise that she would divorce me immediately after that wedding took place," said Webster. "She then refused to get a divorce and that was the beginning of all the trouble."

Says He Told Wife No. 2

Webster stated that he told his second wife of the marriage at Cedar Rapids, but she still refused to agree to a divorce. In August he brought suit for divorce in the Chicago courts. The case was thrown out because of insufficient evidence.

Following this unsuccessful attempt to end the affair, said Webster, he met his second wife on September 14 at the hospital as he was preparing to go to the home of his parents at Dixon for his vacation. He said that she begged to go with him, but that he did not want her to meet his parents.

The prisoner then said that he spent the night of September 14 with wife No. 2 at a north side house. The next afternoon he started for Dixon and to his surprise Bessie Kent went on the same train. The next morning Webster hired a horse and buggy and with Mrs. Webster No. 2 drove north to Dixon. He said that when he started his only object was to have an uninterrupted talk with her and attempt to secure from her an agreement to get a divorce.

On this drive the two quarreled and the physician alleged that his wife struck him and then jumped from the buggy, crying that she would see his parents and expose his life with her.

"When my wife jumped from the buggy," said Webster, "I threw a suit case at her and then I jumped from the buggy and gave chase. She stumbled near a ravine and fell."

"I pulled out my pocketknife and stabbed her four or five times in the back of the neck as she lay on the ground."

Webster returned the horse and buggy to the Dixon livery and 20 minutes later had taken a train for Chicago.

Upon his arrival in Chicago, Webster went to the hospital and announced that he had decided to postpone his vacation. He continued his work as interne and three or four days later reported to the police that his wife was missing. In the next 10 days Webster consulted with the police several times regarding search for his wife. At no time did the police suspect him until after the body had been identified.

The revised count of the general shops of the system at Sacramento shows that 2,005 men were in the service Friday, and that 1,324 remain at work.

Defections in other places are given as follows:

Sampson's chief of staff at the time of the battle. After that historic struggle it was charged that Schley ordered his ship, the Brooklyn, out of range through cowardice and only returned to fire a few shots into the disabled Spanish squadron after the fight was practically over. Admiral Chadwick characterizes the famous "loop" of the Brooklyn as a "fine naval maneuver."

A SURPRISE

The newly-made lord stood in his newly-made grounds, with a newly-made smile of proprietorship upon his face. He was monarch of all he surveyed.

Beyond the gilded gates that divided his estate from the road he espied a couple of old countrywomen. They were gazing through the bars with admiration depicted in every furrowed line of their features.

"Some of my parishioners," he heard the elder woman exclaim, "drawed the lordly one, turning to his companion. 'The admiration of the poor's very amusing. Wonder what they're saying.'"

As they drew within earshot they heard the elder woman exclaim: "Just what I was thinking myself. Jane, what a lovely spot that would make to dry the washing in!"

There is every probability that the Canton of Glarus, Switzerland, will have the first official woman clergyman soon.

ber of applications for work have been received and accepted.

The figures given on vary greatly from the contention of the labor leaders, for the reason that the company's trials are based upon the total number of men of every description employed in the yards, while labor leaders' percentage estimates are on the number of men involved. Thus, in San Francisco, where it is generally conceded that practically every man in the five shipcraft unions involved is on strike, the company's figures still show 230 men at work, those being mainly painters, general workmen and the like, it was said.

Strikers at Los Angeles held a meeting at which they were advised to stay at home, or attend public hearings, and be quiet.

At Portland, the 500 men who finished their five-day week Friday night, are due to return tomorrow morning. If they do so in face of the strike order, Union men say that with the exception of about 30 men, almost at pension age, all will remain away from work.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 1.—An attempt will be made to operate the Harriman system shops in this city tomorrow with the foremen, apprentices and such men as did not obey the general strike order.

Superintendent Wald received a telegram from the superintendent of motive power at Houston this afternoon that 200 new men will arrive there by tomorrow night, and men can be supplied here in a few days. The strikers will hold a meeting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning to discuss the situation. All is quiet here.

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 1.—Five hundred employees of the Illinois Central railroad will lay down their tools at 8 o'clock tomorrow. District Secretary Pullen, controlling the federation from Waterloo to Council Bluffs, including Fort Dodge and Cherokee, has ordered the men at these points to strike at that time.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 1.—The burning of a wooden trestle 250 feet long near Douglas, Ga., and the reported flogging of a white fireman at Vidalia, Ga., were the only developments today in the strike situation on the Georgia & Florida railroad, the fireman of which went out several days ago. Not a wheel moved today.

Tightens Her Skin Loses Her Wrinkles

"From Social Mirrors."

"I want to tell you how easily and quickly I got rid of my wrinkles," writes one of our correspondents. "While in London a friend, much envied because of her youthful appearance, gave me a formula for a home-made preparation which has the effect of instantly tightening the skin, thus smoothing out wrinkles and furrows."

The principal ingredient is powdered sassafras, which I found could be procured at drug stores here. An ounce of sassafras is dissolved in a half pint which hazel. After bathing my face in this but once the transformation was so marvelous I looked years younger. Even the deep crow's feet were affected, as were the annoying creases about my neck. It seems difficult to believe that anything could produce results like these, but several to whom I recommended the remedy have been similarly helped, including an elderly lady whose cheeks had become quite baggy."

The Usurped Power of the Courts

FREQUENTLY laws which are meant to benefit the public are declared to be unconstitutional by the courts. The courts have no right to do that. That is, the Constitution gives them no such right. And it is the Constitution which the courts say must be kept inviolate when other people are concerned. Congress once forbade the Supreme Court to pass upon a law's constitutionality and the Supreme Court didn't. The Supreme Court then admitted that it had no right to overrule Congress. Congress can do the same thing now. The story is in Pearson's Magazine for October. You ought to read it. This usurpation of power by the courts is the most important thing for you to know about. It is all being explained in Pearson's Magazine. Read these stories. They are full of facts which you ought to know. In the same magazine is another story to which you should give serious thought. Half the sickness which comes to your family is unnecessary. Think of that! A National Bureau of Health could prevent unnecessary sickness, yet it is strenuously opposed. Here's the whole story of what a health bureau could do, and why some people oppose it. Another article explains why the price of coffee increases. If you drink coffee, read this story if you read nothing else. Coffee prices haven't quit going up yet. If you want entertainment only, look at this magazine. Just look at it! PUEBLANS ARRANGE DRY FARM EXHIBITS

Big Showing to Be Made by County, in Addition to Individual Display

Messrs. Perry and W. B. Keen of Pueblo were in the city yesterday and Saturday, arranging for the big exhibits that will be made by Pueblo county, and also by themselves, at the International Dry Farming Congress exposition this month. They made a selection for a location for Pueblo county in the Colorado division, and for themselves in the El Paso county division. The Keen brothers' ranch, near Eastonville, is one of the show places of this county. They will occupy one side of the El Paso county division with their stuff.

They brought with them yesterday three silver trophy cups that have been won by their dry farming exhibits at other shows. These are now in the window at Dry Farming Congress headquarters. The largest one stands 15 inches high and rests on an oblong base. It was won at the Irrigation congress at Albuquerque, three years ago, for the best individual exhibit. This was in competition with irrigation products, and the judges were all expert irrigators. The next largest cup is the Denver Post trophy, won at the Cheyenne exposition of the International Dry Farming Congress, three years ago. This also was for the best individual exhibit. The smallest cup was won at Cheyenne for the best individual display from the state of Colorado.

Railroads Grant Low Basing Rate for Dry Farm Congress Here

The transcontinental railroads again have shown their interest in the Dry Farming congress by making a low basing rate for those people coming from the east to this city. A letter from Gerritt Fort, traffic manager of the Union Pacific, announced that the basing rate from Missouri river points is $17.80. This is much lower than the regular summer rate. It must not be understood that anyone can go to a Missouri river ticket office and buy a ticket into Colorado Springs at that figure. Railroads selling through tickets from eastern points are authorized to base the trip west of the river on that figure.

TO INVESTIGATE SANITY

John Sundquist of Palmer Lake in County Jail Here. Is Said to Be a Religious Fanatic.

John Sundquist, living near Palmer Lake, was brought to Colorado Springs yesterday and lodged in the county jail. Today an investigation will be held regarding his sanity.

"According to our information," said Sheriff Birdsall, "Sundquist is a religious fanatic. During the last week he has been roaming the hills and gathering rocks in a bucket, later displaying them as gold-bearing ore. He was carrying a revolver, and the people of the Palmer Lake neighborhood were afraid that he might hurt himself."

INTERESTING WEATHER DATA FOR SEPTEMBER

Data furnished by the Colorado college weather bureau show that the highest temperature last month was September 12, when the mercury rose to 85 degrees. The lowest temperature was 57 degrees, September 18, and September 21. The mean temperature for the month was 66.25 degrees, as compared to an average mean of 69.25 for the last 29 years. The greatest daily range in temperature took place September 5, when a difference of 34 degrees was noted. The mean velocity of the wind per hour was 3.9 miles, and the total precipitation was .32 of an inch. The average mean precipitation during the last 29 years for September is 1.08 of an inch. There were 10 clear, 12 partly cloudy, and six cloudy days last month.

ALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED

Jesse Hildebrand was brought here from Denver yesterday morning and lodged in the county jail, to answer a charge of forgery. A. W. Sheriff Birdsall has received information that Hildebrand passed several worthless checks in Colorado Springs and Colorado City for sums ranging from $10 to $25.

GEN. AND MRS. SHERMAN RETURN TO THIS CITY

General and Mrs. Linus E. Sherman arrived in this city early yesterday morning from an extended trip through the eastern part of the United States and Canada. General Sherman became seriously ill while visiting his old home about 80 miles east of Montreal, Canada, and was in bed in a critical condition for several months, lying unconscious for six weeks. He said last night that with the exception of feeling tired and worn-out from his long journey west, he is feeling very well.

He and Mrs. Sherman left Colorado Springs May 8, going to Schenectady, N. Y., where they visited the general's daughter for several weeks. Later they went on to Ludlow, Vt., spending a short time there with his brother and sister. It was at that place that General Sherman first became sick. Before his illness became serious, he made the journey to his old home in Canada. Here he became seriously sick and lay unconscious, fighting for life for six weeks. The crisis was reached shortly after a month ago, and he began to improve steadily.

GEN. LINUS E. SHERMAN.

General and Mrs. Sherman left Canada last Wednesday morning, and the four days' journey proved a great hardship on the general. The first part of the trip was made by carriage over rough country roads to a small station, where they took the train to Montreal. From there they went to Chicago, and it was there that had luck overtook them. They missed connections with the westbound train they were to take, and had to remain in Chicago one day.

In speaking of his trip the general said: "Had it not been for my sickness my trip would have been most delightful. The eastern part of this country and Canada is beautiful to travel through, and I also greatly enjoyed my visits with my relatives. However, it is good to be back in sight of the mountains again."

Mr. Isely was a tourist here last summer, and by chance dropped into the dry farming headquarters, where he gathered up a lot of printed matter. After reading it, he became interested and decided that his home county ought to exhibit. He writes that they have material to enter every class in the premium list excepting fruits.

The afternoon meeting next Friday was voted a day of fasting and prayer.

DEAN PARSONS TALKS ON "AN OPEN PATH TO GOD"

Speaks During Colorado College Vesper Service—Prof. B. W. Bacon of Yale Next Sunday

Dean Edward S. Parsons of the department of arts and sciences at Colorado college, delivered a sermon on "An Open Path to God" at the Colorado college vesper services at Perkins hall yesterday afternoon.

As an introduction he told of his visit to the Yerkes observatory at Lake Geneva during the summer, speaking of the impressions it gave him as to the greatness of the universe and enlarging the conception of God's power to all who made it a visit. This brought up the question of how can one know such a God? He said that the only way was through a kind, conscious prayer, a study of Christ and to sympathize with the human needs and have the desire to administer to them.

Mr. Parsons took up three things that make us help the poor and needy. First, the kinship between the poor and ourselves; second, that their poverty and wretchedness are not altogether their fault, but rather the fault of society; third, environment has to do largely with this class of people and causes much of its misery.

In conclusion, he showed that the interest being taken by the people of this generation prove a revival of religion in progress. Having for his audience mostly young people, he showed them the great opportunities before them and pointed out the open path for them to follow.

The chapel was almost filled. Next Sunday Prof. B. W. Bacon of Yale university will deliver the sermon.

ALBERTA, CANADA, EXHIBIT ON WAY

At Dry Farming congress headquarters they are daily expecting to hear of the arrival of the Alberta, Can., exhibit. The Saskatchewan car has already arrived. The following from the Lethbridge Herald of last Monday indicates that the Alberta exhibit is now on the way:

Secretary Manwaring of the board of trade has succeeded in gathering together the board exhibit for Colorado Springs, which will be one of the finest ever sent from Alberta. A car with the exhibit is being loaded today, and will be shipped immediately, so that it will arrive in plenty of time for the congress. A Perry of Cardston is also shipping his individual exhibit in the same car, and it is likely that H. Macbeth, agent of the Great Northern here, will go to Lethbridge to clear the customs there so that the car may go through without delay.

Mr. Manwaring and the members of the board of trade are very grateful to the people of the Laramie district for the kindly aid they have given in gathering the exhibit. The secretary was out to Laramie yesterday, and says that the people of that district did everything in their power to supply the board with the best exhibits the district affords.

Complexions Flaked Off At Home

(From Pilgrim Magazine.)

The girl with the poor complexion complains, "I have to touch up my cheeks. I am sallow and a sight, and only my makeup saves me."

Now, as a matter of fact, more women spoil their good looks than improve them with cosmetics. The practice certainly is unnecessary, now that the virtues of ordinary mercialized wax as a beautifier have become known. It has been found that the mercuric iodine in the wax has wonderful absorbent powers. It causes the faded or discolored skin to flake off in minute, almost imperceptible particles, so gently, gradually, as to cause no inconvenience at all. In this way the old complexion is actually removed—like-wise all fine lines, pimples, blotches, moth patches and other surface defects. A new complexion appears—a clear, smooth, youthful, healthy-hued skin such as no paint, powder or lotion can produce. Mercialized wax, to be had at any drug store, is applied like cold cream.

Official Representative From Uruguay Coming

Uruguay is sending an official representative to the International Dry Farming congress in this city, October 15. Announcement was received in a letter from the panamerican bureau that Jose Bichling of Montevideo is en route to this country with credentials as a delegate to the congress. This was rather unexpected, as the little South American republic has not so far shown a great deal of interest in the work of the congress. Uruguay is just south of Brazil and east of Argentina.

DENVER FAVORS "THE BARRIER"

The Denver Republican says the following of Rex Beach's splendid drama of the north, "The Barrier," which will be seen at the opera house tonight only:

"Rex Beach belongs to the 'red blood' brigade of authors, and with Jack London leads the brigade. He is fond of that term 'red blood.' Find a Beanchian hero that isn't a handsome, broad-shouldered, big and 'red blooded' specimen of masculinity. They eat well, they fight well and love well, do these heroes of Mr. Beach's creation, and their 'red blood' flings all the while."

"Captain Burrill, U. S. A., hero of 'The Barrier,' mixes blue blood with his red blood. At first it looks as though the combination is going to be a failure, but it turns out fine in the end. All the characters in 'The Barrier' have red blood. The villain is given opportunity to prove it. In the last act he is allowed to spurt blood of the reddest hue, a privilege given to no one in the play except to the man who fatally shoots him and in return gets a bullet wound in the wrist. The audience has scarcely a chance to see the blood on his wrist before a

HENRY MILLER IN "THE HAVOC"

J. Lawrence Toole, the dramatic critic of the San Francisco Examiner, discussing Henry Miller's triumph in H. S. Sheldon's remarkable play, "The Havoc," says:

"To be a theatrical characterizer is to be ridiculous. Sometimes though, it is hard to be otherwise. When confronted with the dramatically clever Mr. Henry Miller in a desperately ingenious play like "The Havoc" it is especially difficult. Mr. Miller presented "The Havoc" last night to a well-dined and well-decorated audience that filled the Columbia till it bulged. He gave that audience moments of breathlessness and suspense such as it had not experienced, inside or outside the theater, in many theatrical moons. To begin with he gave it an exhibition of his own incomparable acting. The acting of Henry Miller ever was, is, and I haven't the least doubt ever will be, a sheer and unalloyed delight. And in nothing that he has been seen in in recent years is the art of more compelling and delightful than in "The Havoc."

Henry Miller will be seen in "The Havoc" at the Opera house on Saturday night only. Mr. Miller will have the support of the original New York cast in the Sheldon drama. The identical players who appeared with him during the long run of the piece at the Bijou theater in New York will come here.

LORCH RETURNS TOMORROW

In his "farewell" speech at the Opera house Friday night, Mr. Lorch spoke of the famous Bernhard, Patti and Buffalo Bill to add variety to the selection, farewells. Not to be outdone by his great contemporaries, Mr. Lorch has decided to make one more "positively last" work at the Opera house. So commencing tomorrow night, and continuing through Friday night, Mr. Lorch and his entire company will present for the first time in this city at popular prices, a dramatization of "Charles Dickens' famous novel, "Oliver Twist," which Name O'Neil, Release's great star, played with great success a few years ago and in which many noted stars have appeared.

MUSIC AND COMEDY STARS AT MAJESTIC

It is a faithful bill that the Majestic offers this week with lots of music and a general atmosphere of jollity that is infectious. Some of the best-known of Broadway stars in musical and comedy lines are on the list of features, and the whole show has a distinctively metropolitan flavor. The hearty approval of Saturday's large audiences may be taken as a true criterion of its entertainment quality.

The Majestic opens the bill with "The Rose and the Dagger," a new, exclusive Rex film of surprising interest. The reproduction of a terrible storm, with vivid lightning, flashes, is a unique feature of a most exciting photoplay.

"M'ADDEN'S FLATS"

Last summer, while in New York, Mr. Jerry Sullivan, the well-known comedian with "M'Adden's Flats" company, met a party of friends who had the day before been on an outing given by a well-known politician and among the number was an old fellow named Tim Casey, who was quite a character in the ward, had always lived in and who was noted for his quick wit. Sullivan noticed that Casey had a fine black eye, so he said to him, "Tim, who gave you the black eye?" "Nobody gave it to me," said Tim, "I had to fight like hell for it."

AMATO GAINS NEW TRIUMPH IN PARIS

References to the admirable singing of Pasquale Amato, with the Metropolitan Opera company, at the Theater du Chatelet, have been made in several dispatches to Musical America, but it is hard to do real justice to the extent and emphatic nature of his success. With Caruso he has become the idol of the company in Paris. In "Orpheus," "Aida" and "Pagliacci," his noble voice and sincerity and force of acting have earned him the whole-hearted admiration of his audiences and the unreserved acclaim of the critics. Last night he sang Lescart in the first performance in Paris of Puccini's "Manon Lescaut," and if that were possible, heightened admiration of his art. His baritone rang out gloriously and his acting was beyond reproach. It was a deep and lasting impression that he created, and Paris' only regret is that his appearances here have been, and seem likely to be in the future, so few.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFICULTY

ONE CHURCH ONLY. ARE OTHERS FALSE?

"Church of the Firstborn"—Pastor Russell Points Out the True Church and Asks Respecting Others—The Bible Testimony on the Subject. Christians of All Creeds Assent.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Pastor Russell's discourse at the Brooklyn Academy of Music today was heard by a crowded house. He had closest attention to his discussion of the question, "Which is the True Church?" The vast audience, appearing satisfied that the true church had been located, was composed of truth-hungry people of all denominations. Undoubtedly the question discussed has been a vital one for centuries. Some claim that never before had an answer been given satisfactory to Christians of all denominations. His text was, "The Church of the Firstborn, whose names are written in heaven."—Hebrews xii, 23.

Numerous scriptures were cited in proof of the speaker's contention that the Lord Jesus and the apostles never organized any but the one church, and the histories of the various denominations were referred to as proving that nearly all present-day Christian denominations were nonexistent 1,000 years ago, and hence none of these denominations could have been the one referred to by the apostle as the "Church of the Living God."

For a time, said the speaker, each of the various denominations in turn protested against other teachings and claimed to be the one church of Christ which had been for centuries lost sight of. At one time these various denominations fought each other, persecuted each other, even unto death, each claiming that the other was a false church, and that itself was the true one. More recently, however, the Christian mind has broadened and deepened until now we clearly see that God has sanctified people in practically every denomination.

Find me today the Presbyterian or Methodist who would denounce a Baptist brother and his teaching as being of the devil, or find me today the Baptist brother who would declare that fellow-Christians of other creeds are surely bound for eternal torture because not buried in water baptism; find me today the Protestant who claims that all Catholics are children of Gehenna, or the Catholic who makes such a claim against saintly Protestants; if there be such narrow bigots today, they for shame hide their identity, much to the relief of their neighbors.

The One Catholic Church.

Pastor Russell, freely admitted that the Roman Catholic church could prove her existence long centuries before her sister and daughter organizations, but he disputed, nevertheless, that the church of Rome could prove her identity with the apostolic church of the First century. On the contrary, many of the teachings of the church of Rome differ radically from those of the church of Jerusalem, represented by the apostles and their new testament writings. And as for the ceremonial usages, customs, etc., no one at all familiar with the two could suppose them to have even a close relationship. Nevertheless, as already stated, we must look for the true church of Christ somewhere. And we do find in the Catholic church some good, saintly characters which mark them as members of the true church. Indeed, we find some such in all the denominations professing Christ.

The church of Rome could not prove consistent with the above facts is this: That the original church which Jesus and his apostles founded was a catholic one—that is to say, a general or universal church, and not a church of Rome, a church of England, a church of Sweden, a church of Germany, or a Greek church, but a universal church—a catholic or general church. Protestants in general recognize this, and hence in their confessions generally claim to be "The Holy Catholic (universal) church."

The fact, however, is that none of these churches (Roman, English, Baptist, Presbyterian, etc.) are catholic or general, because none of them includes all of God's people. To admit that any one of these religious bodies is the catholic or general church of Christ would be to admit that it includes all persons recognized by the Lord as being members of his church. We cannot, therefore, admit that the true catholic church belongs to any one of these denominations, not even the Roman Catholic. The catholic church of Christ—the one which includes all who are truly his—is not a human organization, and its role or rostra is not kept on earth. To it alone apply the apostle's words: "The Church of the Firstborn, whose names are written in heaven."

"Household of Faith."

This family of God, begotten of the Holy Spirit, are one with him in spirit. In purpose, in intention. They have the "faith" once delivered unto the saints—faith in the Father, faith in the Lord Jesus as his son, man's redeemer; faith in the Holy Spirit of begetting; faith in the exceeding great and precious promises of glorious things to come, and they have the one baptism into the body of Christ, which is the church. Some of them may have seen and may have obeyed the proper symbol of this one baptism, while others have not. But all alike recognize the true baptism and all participated therein—baptism into Christ's death—Romans vi, 3.

My friends, said the speaker, cannot we all agree that there is but one general or catholic church of Christ—that it is not an earthly organization bound by creeds and confessions—that it is a heavenly organization, effected through consecration to the Lord and divine acceptance through the Holy Spirit—that the human institutions called churches were well-intentioned, but were the results of confusion, darkness, error—that these denominational systems called churches, however well-meant, are not any of them, the church—that the members of the church are scattered in all denominations and that the Lord alone knows those who are his and that he will ultimately separate them as wheat from tares in the harvest of this age, preparatory to their resurrection "change" and inauguration as the heavenly kingdom of Messiah, ordained for the blessing of humanity in general during the long years of Messiah's glorious reign of righteousness. If we so see, let us strive to attain membership in the true church! The steps are:

- (1) Faith.
- (2) Obedience to the invitation of self-sacrifice.
- (3) The carrying out of that sacrifice day by day, faithfully, unto death.
- (4) A share in the resurrection "change" to glory, honor and immortality.

FIRST PHOTO OF POPE TAKEN SINCE ILLNESS. This photograph shows his holiness in the act of taking the first carriage ride of his convalescence. To the left of the holy father are some high dignitaries of the church. Popular interest attaches to this photograph because of it and some others that were taken at the same time he pope said:

"Give them as large a circulation as possible, thus showing my complete recovery."

A DISTANT RELATIVE

From Tit Bits.

Johnny's mother bought him a fine engine. He wanted to see how it worked and of course in a very short time the wheels were off. She was naturally very angry with him and punished him severely. When daddy came home he found his small son sitting in the nursery with very red eyes.

"Why, my poor old man," he inquired, "what is the matter?"

"Nuffin'," sniffed the small boy. "But something must be wrong," persisted daddy. "Do tell me."

"Oh well, if you want to know," said the little boy, "I have just been having an awful row with your wife."

TRAVELING LIGHT
 From the Washington Post.
 Henry E. Dixey, at a luncheon in New York, praised the "honeymoon special," the motor car route between Chicago and New York.
 "This route's only drawback," he said, "lies in the fact that you can't take much luggage with you. Your luggage, in fact, must be almost as limited as Grog's."
 "Grog had been contemplating a visit to the sanatorium over the Fourth, and a couple of days after the Fourth I met him or the Balto."
 "Well, Grog, old boy, I said, 'did you enjoy yourself at the store?'"
 "Yes, fine," said he, "only I lost my luggage."
 "Lost your luggage? How was that?" I asked.
 "The first clerk came out, he explained."

FIRST AMERICAN LEIHER BOX
 From the National Magazine.
 A little more than half a century ago the letter box was unknown. The inventor was Joseph William Briggs, nephew of a former governor of Massachusetts, who, as head clerk in the Cleveland postoffice, studied the needs of patrons, and after correspondence with Postmaster General Denison upon the subject, took a train for Washington, bearing a pasteboard model of the letter box under his arm. The postmaster general saw the merits of the plan and appointed Mr. Briggs as special agent to establish the letter box and letter carrier system. The first letter box was attached by clamps to a lamp post that stood in front of a Cleveland drug store, and not a year had passed before 52 different cities had adopted the system.

DENVER FAVORS

"THE BARRIER"

The Denver Republican says the following of Rex Beach's splendid drama of the north, "The Barrier" which will be seen at the Opera house tonight only.

"Rex Beach belongs to the red blood brigade of authors, and with Jack London leads the brigade. He is fond of that term red blood. Find a Beachian hero that isn't a handsome broad-shouldered, big and red blooded specimen of masculinity. They eat well, they fight well and love well, do these heroes of Mr. Beach's creation and their red blood tingles all the while.

"Captain Burrell U. S. A. hero of 'The Barrier' mixes blue blood with his red blood. At first it looks as though the combination is going to be a failure, but it turns out fine in the end. All the characters in 'The Barrier' have red blood. The villain is given opportunity to prove it. In the last act he is allowed to spurt blood of the reddest hue, a privilege given to no one in the play except to the man who fatally shoots him and in return gets a bullet wound in the wrist. The audience has scarcely a chance to see the blood on his wrist before a bandage covers it, while the villain lies in full view for at least two minutes with his shirt simply bespattered with gore.

Melodramas are sometimes needed to stir the blood and anyone with a hankering to have his blood stirred should go to the Taber and see 'The Barrier,' which is Rex Beach's own dramatization of his famous book by that name. There are thrills and pistol shots in every act and a killing in the last. That last act is a peach!

It is a mighty good sort of melodrama, is 'The Barrier,' and anyone who sits through the first act will not leave until the curtain falls on the last. It is a play that grips and thrills from the first moment until the last. Don't say 'Push at the mention of melodrama. Go and see 'The Barrier.' The management of the Taber would be safe in offering a guarantee that you won't leave until you see how it ends. And when it's all over, you'll be as glad as the veriest lover of melodrama that that scoundrel Stark got his. The play closely follows the book. So many are familiar with the latter it is needless to outline the story here.

"The play could scarcely be acted better than by the company which is presenting it at the Taber. It is an excellent cast and each of the actors deserves special mention for his and her fine work.

The strongest part is that of John (Jack) Norval MacGregor, handles it splendidly. A handsome young man by the name of Lee Miller makes a capital captain Burrell. Max Steiner and George Cleveland are no less excellent in their respective roles while Bruce Howatson acts and looks as mean as that man Stark was drawn to be. There are only two women in the cast. Mattie Hyde does particularly good work as the squaw and Eleanor Haber is most satisfactory as the half-breed heroine, who isn't a half-breed after all."

MISS ELEANOR HABER,

Who Will Be Seen in the Role of Neela in Rex Beach's "The Barrier," at the Opera House Tonight.

HENRY MILLER IN "THE HAVOC"

J. Lawrence Toole, the dramatic critic of the San Francisco Examiner, discussing Henry Miller's triumph in H. S. Sheldon's remarkable play, "The Havoc," says:

"To be a theatrical rhapsodizer is to be ridiculous. Sometimes it is to be well-dressed and well-decorated audience that filled the Columbia till it bulged. He gave that audience moments of breathlessness and suspense such as it had not experienced inside or outside the theater in many theatrical moments. To begin with he gave it an exhibition of his own incomparable acting. The acting of Henry Miller ever was, is and I haven't the least doubt ever will be, a sheer and unalloyed delight. And in nothing that he has been seen in in recent years is the art of more compelling and delightful than in "The Havoc."

Henry Miller will be seen in "The Havoc" at the Opera house on Saturday night only. Mr. Miller will have the support of the original New York cast in the Sheldon drama. The identical players who appeared with him during the long run of the piece at the Blou theater in New York will come here.

LORENZ RETURNS TOMORROW

In his "farewell" speech at the Opera house Friday night Mr. Lorenz spoke of the famous Bernhard, Patti and Buffalo Bill (to add variety to the selection), farewells. Not to be outdone by his great contemporaries, Mr. Lorenz has decided to make one more positively last week at the Opera house. So commencing tomorrow night and continuing through Friday night, Mr. Lorenz and his entire company will present for the first time in this city at popular prices a dramatization of "Charles Dickens' famous novel, "Oliver Twist," which Nance O'Neil, Belasco's great star played with great success a few years ago and in which many noted stars have appeared.

MUSIC AND COMEDY STARS AT MAJESTIC

It is a mirthful bill that the Majestic offers this week, with lots of music and a general atmosphere of jollity that is infectious. Some of the best-known of Broadway stars in musical and comedy lines are on the list of features and the whole show has a distinctively metropolitan flavor. The hearty approval of Saturday's large audiences may be taken as true criterion of its entertainment quality.

The Majestic opens the bill with "The Rose and the Dagger," a new, exclusive Rex film of surpassing interest. The reproduction of a terrible storm with vivid lightning flashes, is a unique feature of a most exciting photoplay.

her own voice. The effect is most unusual and pleasing.

Next comes "On a Side Street," the playlet depicting a true incident of New York life, written by Homer Miller. It is realistic to the last degree, and the acting of Teddy Le Due as the janitor is one of the choicest bits of comedy work ever seen here. He is irresistible.

Brown and Cooper two of Manhattan's most popular song writers, are next, with a clever lambourne of character songs and pianoforte novelties, which are all to the good and very popular.

Robinson and Favor, in a grotesque bounding barrel act, full of comedy, are the next attraction and the bill closes with a motion picture comic, "The Stolen Policeman."

This list, with the orchestra program makes up a most enjoyable bill, noteworthy for novelty. Performances at 2:30, 7:30 and 9:10. Admission, only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

"McFADDEN'S FLATS"

Last summer, while in New York, Mr. Jerry Sullivan, the well-known comedian with "McFadden's Flats" company, met a party of friends who had the day before been on an outing given by a well-known politician and among the number was an old fellow named Tim Casey, who was quite a character in the ward he had always lived in and who was noted for his quick wit. Sullivan noticed that Casey had a fine black eye, so he said to him, "Tim, who gave you the black eye?" "Nobody gave it to me," said Tim, "I had to fight like for it."

AMATO GAINS NEW TRIUMPH IN PARIS

References to the admirable singing of Pasquale Amato with the Metropolitan Opera company, at the Theater du Chatelet, have been made in several dispatches to Musical America, but it is hard to do real justice to the extent and emphatic nature of his success. With Caruso he has become the idol of the company in Paris. In "Otello," "Aida" and "Pagliacci," his noble voice and sincerity and force of acting have earned him the whole-hearted admiration of his audiences and the unreserved acclaim of the critics. Last night he sang Lescart in the first performance in Paris of Puccini's "Manon Lescaut," and, if that were possible, heightened admiration of his art. His baritone rang out gloriously and his acting was beyond reproach. It was a deep and lasting impression that he created, and Paris' only regret is that his appearances here have been, and seem likely to be in the future, so few.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFICULTY

From the Washington Star. "What is the hardest thing to learn about farming?" inquired the summer boarder. "Gettin' up at 5 o'clock in the mornin'," replied Farmer Co. (quaint).

ONE CHURCH ONLY. ARE OTHERS FAISE?

"Church of the Firstborns"—Pastor Russell Points Out the True Church and Asks Respecting Others—The Bible Testimony on the Subject. Christians of All Creeds Assent.

BROOKLYN, N. Y. Oct. 1.—Pastor Russell's discourse at the Brooklyn Academy of Music today was heard by a crowded house. He had closest attention to his discussion of the question "Which is the True Church?" The vast audience appeared satisfied that the true church had been located properly. The audience so far as could be ascertained was composed of truth-hungry people of all denominations. Undoubtedly the question discussed has been a vital one for centuries. Some claim that never before had an answer been given satisfactory to Christians of all denominations. His text was "The Church of the Firstborns, whose names are written in heaven"—Hebrews XII 23.

Numerous scriptures were cited in proof of the speaker's contention that the Lord Jesus and the apostles never organized any but the one church, and the histories of the various denominations were referred to as proving that nearly all present-day Christian denominations were nonexistent 1000 years ago, and hence none of these denominations could have been the one referred to by the apostle as the "Church of the Living God."

For a time, said the speaker, each of the various denominations in turn protested against other teachings and claimed to be the one church of Christ which had been for centuries lost sight of. At one time these various denominations fought each other, persecuted each other even unto death, each claiming that the other was a false church, and that itself was the true one. More recently, however, the Christian mind has broadened and deepened until now we clearly see that God has saintly people in practically every denomination.

Find me today the Presbyterian or Methodist who would denounce a Baptist brother and his teaching as being of the devil or find me today the Baptist brother who would declare that fellow Christians of other creeds are surely bound for eternal torture because not buried in water baptism. Find me today the Protestant who claims that all Catholics are children of Gehenna or the Catholic who makes such a claim against saintly Protestants! If there be such narrow bigots today they for shame hide their identity much to the relief of their neighbors.

The One Catholic Church

Pastor Russell freely admitted that the Roman Catholic church could prove her existence long centuries before her sister and daughter organizations but he disputed nevertheless that the church of Rome could prove her identity with the apostolic church of the first century. On the contrary, many of the teachings of the church of Rome differ radically from those of the church of Jerusalem, represented by the apostles and their new testament writings. And as for the ceremonial, usages, customs, etc., no one at all familiar with the two could suppose them to have even a close relationship. Nevertheless, as already stated, we must look for the true church of Christ somewhere. And we do find in the catholic church some good, saintly characters which mark them as members of the true church. Indeed, we find some such in all the denominations professing Christ.

The only conclusion we reach consistent with the above facts is this: That the original church which Jesus and his apostles founded was a catholic one—that is to say a general or universal church and not a church of Rome, a church of England, a church of Sweden or a church of Germany, nor a Greek church, but a universal church—a catholic or general church. Protestants in general recognize this, and hence in their confessions generally claim to be "The Holy Catholic (universal) church."

The fact, however, is that none of these churches (Roman English Baptist Presbyterian, etc.) are catholic or general because none of them includes all of God's people. To admit that any one of these religious bodies is the catholic or general church of Christ would be to admit that it includes all persons recognized by the Lord as being members of his church. We cannot therefore admit that the term catholic belongs to any one of these denominations not even the Roman Catholic. The catholic church of Christ—the one which includes all who are truly his—is not a human organization, and its role or rostra is not kept on earth. To it alone apply the apostle's words "The Church of the Firstborns whose names are written in heaven."

"Household of Faith."

This family of God, begotten of the Holy Spirit, are one with him in spirit, in purpose in intention. They have the "faith once delivered unto the saints"—faith in the Father, faith in the Lord Jesus as his son, man's redeemer, faith in the Holy Spirit of God, getting, faith in the exceeding great and precious promises of glorious things to come, and they have the baptism in the body of Christ, which is the church. Some of them may have seen and may have obeyed the proper symbol of this one baptism while others may not. But all these recognize the true baptism and all participated therein—baptism into Christ's death—Romans VI, 3.

My friends said the speaker, cannot we all agree that there is but one general or catholic church of Christ—that it is not an earthly organization bound by creeds and confessions—that it is a heavenly organization effected through consecration to the Lord and divine acceptance through the Holy Spirit—that the human institutions called churches were well-intentioned, but were the results of confusion, darkness, error—that these denominational systems called churches, however well-meant, are not any of them the church—that the members of the church are scattered in all denominations and that the Lord alone knows those who are his, and that he will ultimately separate them as wheat from tares in the harvest of this age, preparatory to their resurrection "change" and inauguration as the heavenly kingdom of Messiah, ordained for the life of the world to come.

FIRST PHOTO OF POPE TAKEN SINCE ILLNESS

This photograph shows his holiness in the act of taking the first carriage ride of his convalescence. To the left of the holy father are some high dignitaries of the church. Peculiar interest attaches to this photograph because of it and some others that were taken at the same time he pope said: "Give them as large a circulation as possible, thus showing my complete recovery."

d'ring in the nursery with very red eyes. "Why my poor old man he inquired, 'what is the matter?' "Nuffing," sniffed the small boy. "But something must be wrong," persisted daddy. "Do tell me." "Oh well if you want to know," said the little boy, "I have just been having an awful row with your wife."

A novelty in shoes introduced in Germany has partitions to separate the wearer's toes. The interior of these shoes terminates in soft pads pressing against the foot so that the thrust in walking is taken at the base of the toes instead of the point. Jamming of the toes is thus prevented. It is claimed that the deforming of the foot now so common will be avoided by this arrangement, and that walking will be made more comfortable.

A DISTANT RELATIVE

From Tit Bits. John's mother bought him a fine engine. He wanted to see how it worked and of course in a very short time the wheels were off. She was naturally very angry with him and punished him severely. When daddy came home he found his small son sitting in the nursery with very red eyes.

THE ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR

From Lippincott's Magazine
A college professor who is very absent-minded got on a crowded electric car not long ago, and had to stand up. As the conductor came to take his fare, the professor suddenly perceived a well-known society woman of his acquaintance. He at once put his hand into his pocket took out a nickel and handed it nonchalantly to the woman, then, turning, he made an elaborate bow and shook hands cordially with the conductor.
